Dulles, Rhee To Ink Security Pact Tonight

Agreement Reached Between U. S., ROK; Needs Senate Okay

SEOUL, Aug. 7 (U-P)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Syngman Rhee will initial the draft of a security treaty between the United States and South Korea tomorrow, it was announced officially tonight.

The ceremony is scheduled for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EST today).

Agreement was reached on the treaty today.

The announcement was made by members of Dulles' party and the office of President Rhee. A joint statement from Rhee and Dulles is expected tomorrow and the secretary of state will hold a news conference here before leaving for Tokyo.

Must Get Senate Okay
Rhee has demanded the treaty as one condition for South Korea going along with an armistice in Korea. President Eisenhower promised in June to negotiate a security pact, which still must be approved by the U. S. Senate.

The treaty was reported patterned closely after the security pact between the United States and the Philippines. It provides that the United States will come to the aid of South Korea in the event of new Communist aggression. It also provides for basing American troops in South Korea.

Dulles met two hours and 45 minutes with Rhee today. He said he would have "some progress" to report tomorrow.

To Meet Once More
Dulles said he would have a final meeting with the South Korean President at 10 a. m. Saturday (8 p. m. EST Friday) then would fly to Tokyo.

"I will spend tomorrow night in Tokyo and take off for the States on Sunday," he said.

Dulles and high State Department officials arrived in Korea Tuesday and Dulles and President Rhee have conferred four times on post-armistice problems in Korea.

At a roadside news conference after he drove out of the grounds of Rhee's mansion, Dulles said he thought "good progress" had been made today.

However, a moment later he said he and the President were working on a prepared statement to be given out tomorrow "covering what we have done."

Ike Claims Good Start Toward Efficient Regime

Administration Aims For World Peace, President Declares

WASHINGTON (U-P)—President Eisenhower staked out a claim today that his administration has made "a good start" toward building an honest, efficient regime at home while exerting its power in the cause of world peace.

But Eisenhower conceded that his administration has by no means "seen and conquered all the problems of our nation" in its first six months.

In an all-network radio address to the American public last night, the chief executive declared this to be his "single, supreme purpose":

"To serve and to strengthen our people, all our people, in their faith in freedom and in their quest of peace; and to strengthen all peoples who share with us that faith and that quest."

Condemned 2 Years Ago
Condemned approximately two years ago, the bridge was closed entirely to trucks, and for a period of months handled only one-way auto traffic. Heavy vehicle traffic was detoured through Salem over State St., S. Ellsworth Ave. and over the Newgarden Rd.

Sever said today that the completion of the Columbiana by-pass in the not too distant future would result in the additional "thinning out" of truck traffic which passes through Salem between Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Relief To Salem
The re-opening of the Canton Bridge and the impending completion of the Columbiana Route 14 by-pass promise a welcome relief to Salem citizens who have watched their main street disintegrate under the grinding wheels of monster trucks.

Still hanging fire are the often-discussed repairs to State St. Division 11 engineers have informed city officials that plans and surveys for the repairs have been completed and that work on the street will begin as soon as the funds are available.

Russian Tanks Ringing Plants In E. Germany

BERLIN (U-P)—Soviet Army tanks today were reported ringing many East German factories to deal with possible outbreaks of the rebellious population.

The report was published in the U. S. State Department newspaper Neue Zeitung as East Germans coming to West Berlin for the American-backed food handout reported new sporadic unrest in the Russian zone.

Neue Zeitung said the Red tanks, first called out to quell the June 17 rebellion, had been stationed around "numerous big East zone factories." There was no indication, however, that violence had developed at any of these potential trouble spots.

With the crumbling of their travel blockade against the food seekers, the Communist police meanwhile intensified their confiscation drives to strip thousands of East Germans of the food they collected in West Berlin.

Reinforced cordons of Communist "People's Police" surrounding Berlin snatched the food parcels on trains and railway stations and plundered people who used pedestrian crossing back to the Russian zone.

West Berlin relief officials warned that the Communists now were also looting the mails of food the police cordons.

Despite the new terror, thousands which some East Germans have been posting home to circumvent more East Germans and East Berliners lined up in the food queues for the 12th day of the giveaway. Yesterday 148,061 parcels were distributed, boosting the 11-day total to 1,756,000.

Board Won't Drop School Merger Plan

LISBON — Opponents of the merger of the four school districts in the southwestern part of the county lost their bid to have the Columbiana County Board of Education drop the matter at a meeting Thursday night at the courthouse.

A five-member committee, representing Franklin, Yellow Creek and Wayne districts, attended the meeting with their counsel, Attorney Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville. The group claims to have sufficient signatures on remonstrance petitions to have the board rescind its action of July 14 to consolidate the three districts plus Sallineville.

A delegation from Sallineville, headed by Mayor Karl Lindner, also was present. Mayor Lindner claims they have petitions which will offset those being circulated by the opposition.

The opposition has until Thursday midnight to file the petitions with the board. If one more than 50 per cent of those who voted in the last general election in the districts sign the petitions, the merger must be dropped by the board.

Reds Free Healthier Group Of 394 POWs

2,000-3,000 GIs May Be Held Back By Reds

81 Americans Freed; Tell Of U. S. Officers Sentenced To Jails

PANMUNJOM (U-P)—A healthier group of 394 Allied war prisoners came out of Communist captivity today and added to mushrooming reports the Reds are holding back some POWs — including perhaps 2,000 to 3,000 Americans.

Eighty-one Americans were among the group released today under a brilliant sun at this way-side village in the third day of the Korean war prisoner exchange—"Operation Big Switch."

Although the Reds had promised 400, an unofficial count showed six South Koreans missing from the scheduled 250. There was no immediate explanation.

The Reds also sent back 25 British, 25 Turks, 12 Filipinos and 7 Colombians.

They said the next group, scheduled for 9 a. m. Saturday (7 p. m. Friday, EST), would include 90 Americans, 256 South Koreans, 35 Turks and 25 British.

That will bring the total of Americans released to 311, still only a bare fraction of the 3,313 the Reds have promised to return.

In all, the Allies are handing over 74,000 Reds for 12,763 Allied POWs.

The U. N. Command sent back 2,753 Communists Friday, a quieter and better-behaved group than those of the first two days, who roamed wildly in last-minute shows of defiance. They still sang and chanted, but they were more restrained and did not attack U. N. personnel as they did earlier.

The Allied repatriates, wearing faded blue Chinese uniforms, appeared in much better condition mentally and physically than the sick and weary men released the first two days. Even so, some were ill and needed medical care.

The Reds, showing eagerness for the first time, started the exchange at 8:55 a. m., five minutes ahead of time.

The Americans laughed as they climbed from the Red trucks and jokes cracked from man to man. They waved and smiled and yelled to correspondents awaiting them.

When the trucks stopped, they jumped quickly to the ground, grinning.

The South Koreans appeared more worn and sick. Some were masked with gauze, for lung diseases. Others were gaunt and thin. Some had to be helped from trucks, blurred the happiness of the present exchange as reports grew that However, an ominous fear the Reds may be holding out thousands of POWs, many of them American.

Civil Servants Stage Crippling Strike In France

Workers Protest Economies Planned By Premier Laniel

PARIS (U-P)—France's vast army of two million civil servants slapped Premier Joseph Laniel with a crippling 24-to-48 hour nationwide general strike today. They demanded he cut defense costs instead of upping their retirement age and trimming their ranks.

The protest against the Premier's rumored plans for government economies was France's worst strike since the 1936 days of Socialist Leon Blum's popular front government.

Trains ground to a halt throughout the country. Telephones were dead. Gas flickered feebly. Garbage piled up in the streets. Non-government mine workers also joined in.

Buses Called Out
Paris buses and subways ran throughout the morning, but unions decided just before noon to call out their operators immediately.

That left only taxis and private automobiles for capital riders.

The nation's business and commercial life rapidly approached paralysis. It looked like much of it would stay that way until Monday.

This was the strike picture this morning: Postal, telegraph and telephone service—220,000 workers on indefinite strike for last two days; mail and telegrams stopped, telephone communications slashed 90 per cent.

Railroads, mines and municipal services (street cleaners, garbage collectors, undertakers, etc.)—on 24-hour strike until midnight Saturday; gas and electricity operating on reserves; gas pressure low and expected to drop drastically; electric power likely to decline in some sections; water pressure expected to dwindle.

Unlike most French strikes, this one was not called by the Communists but by the Socialist Labor Force (Force Ouvriere) and the Christian (Catholic) Labor Federation. The Red CGT (General Confederation of Labor) joined in happily, however.

The walkout was ordered to protest reports that Laniel's 6-week-old government planned to up the retirement age for government workers from 57 to 62 and lop many employees off the public payroll.

Ohio Assembly Meets To Act On 12 Vetoes By Gov. Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U-P)—The 100th Ohio General Assembly puts the finishing touches on its session today. Most of the important action will be on 12 bills vetoed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

This is the last day of the regular session of the Republican-controlled Legislature. Final adjournment will come tonight when all loose ends are tied up.

One of the most significant developments today will be the Legislature's failure to act on a proposal to change Ohio's election laws to provide for a quick special election to name a successor to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The leaders of both legislative houses decided yesterday in a huddle with State GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss to drop the proposal. It will not even be introduced.

Their decision let stand the present state law. Under that law, Lausche, a Democrat, will appoint "Mr. Republican's" successor. An election in 1954 will fill the last two years of Taft's unexpired term.

Three standstill bills vetoed by Lausche are expected to get most attention today. These would:

Distribute the highway department's 12 - million-dollar-a-year maintenance fund among cities, counties and townships to help

Only minor damage was done to the truck, patrolmen said. The other trucker continued on his way, apparently unaware of the mishap.

A two-car collision on Route 164, one-half mile south of Columbiana, at 4:55 p. m. Thursday resulted in minor damage to both vehicles.

Patrolmen said the autos, driven by Walter Eberhard, 62, of Columbiana and Herbert Heck, 44, also of Columbiana, sideswiped on the state highway.

Neither driver was hurt and no arrests were made, the Patrol reported.

POW Says Russians Man Guns In Korea

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (U-P)—A U. S. soldier freed by the Communists today said he saw uniformed Russians manning anti-aircraft guns near the Yalu River in North Korea.

Pfc. Charles Bryant Jr. of Cincinnati, Ohio, said he saw 15 or 16 Russians while held in a prison camp on the Yalu.

Won't Probe Red Atrocities

Solons Fear Reprisals On POWs Still Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Short (R-Mo) said today the House Armed Services Committee has decided against making any immediate investigation of reported Communist atrocities against American prisoners in the Korean War.

It might bring reprisals on Americans still in Red hands, Short said in an interview.

He made the statement as demands were voiced by some other members of Congress for investigation of atrocity stories brought back by the latest Americans to come home from Red prison camps this week.

Rep. Machrowicz (R-Mich) called for such a probe. He said in a separate interview it should be conducted "just as soon as possible, while the evidence is fresh."

Machrowicz also endorsed a demand, voiced Wednesday by Sen. Potter (R-Mich), for a Senate Armed Services Committee investigation of evidence that the Reds apparently held back seriously ill prisoners last April, when they were supposed to exchange them.

But Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), a member of the Senate Foreign relations committee expressed doubt that a congressional investigation would be worthwhile.

"It is a terrible and dreadful thing," he said, urging that the Eisenhower administration make "all the facts" known to the world.

Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations Far East Commander, said in a Pentagon news conference yesterday the Reds may have 2,000 or 3,000 more Americans than the 3,313 they have agreed to free. Latest casualty reports list 8,705 some of whom are believed to have been captured.

Ferguson said reports of the emaciated condition of the United Nations prisoners freed this week are "unbelievable" and "dreadful."

He accused the Communists of bad faith in their handling of the April exchange of sick and wounded, and expressed grave concern whether the Reds could be trusted in the forthcoming Korea peace conference.

An attempt last January to set up a special House committee to investigate Korean atrocities was shelved when the Pentagon advised Republican leaders that it might endanger American captives.

Boy Asks Burial In Blue Suit, Shoots Himself

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A 15-year-old high school student who told his sister to "bury me in a blue suit," died yesterday of a gunshot wound which police said was self-inflicted.

Police said the sister, Janet, 13, told them she was hanging out clothing in the yard when her brother stuck his head out the window and yelled to her.

"I'll be dead in a few minutes, so bury me in a blue suit," he said. She found him unconscious on the floor of his bedroom.

Gormley Decides Against Running

Thomas, Calvin Left In Mayor's Contest

COLUMBIANA — K. T. Gormley, Republican candidate for mayor of Columbiana, announces his withdrawal from the three-cornered race, leaving the present mayor, Walter A. Thomas, Independent, and ex-Mayor E. L. Calvin, Democrat, as the two candidates.

Gormley as a candidate in 1949 for his fourth consecutive term, was defeated by Calvin, who was in turn defeated by Thomas in 1951. Thomas had served as street commissioner 20 years when Calvin assumed office and failed to reappoint him, naming Craig Quigley in his place.

Gormley withdrew because he felt the danger of a three-man race might split the vote badly.

JOHN E. Ward of New Springfield Road and J. L. Ward of Upper Elkton Road, growers of certified seed wheat, are shipping to Huron, O., this week for the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange of Buffalo, N. Y., two cars of the Pennell and Thorne varieties.

Seed potato farms in the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan will be inspected next week by C. T. Guindon, manager of the Columbiana Farm Bureau Co-operative; Charles Harper, assistant manager of Firestone Farms; Ernest Tritt of Lisbon, and Fred Schoene of Beloit. They will leave Tuesday. Growers of this area will tour Coshocton County potato farms Monday.

R. E. Hapoldt of the Firestone organization in Akron will be at the meeting of the Columbiana and Fairfield Township Historical Society in the public library at 8:15 p.m. Monday, in an advisory capacity. Next year will mark the 150th anniversary of the purchase of the original Firestone farm east of town by the family forebears.

Permanent organization under a charter of incorporation is to be promoted at the meeting Monday. Representatives of East Fairfield and Middleton, that were contemporary early settlements with Columbiana in Fairfield township are invited to be present and take part in the adoption of a constitution and by-laws.

The Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. will elect officers at its August meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hennon, 118 W. Railroad St., at 2 p.m. next Tuesday.

PANDORA REBEKAH LODGE will have a picnic at the home of Mrs. John Bregar, near North Lima on the Woodworth - New Springfield Road, at 6:30 p.m., Aug. 19, those attending to take coverdish and table service. Those desiring transportation and those who have room in their cars are to meet at the lodge quarters at 6.

With Route 14 still being maintained through Columbiana for east-bound and some west-bound traffic, no word has been received from the State Highway Department as to what name will be given the bypass when it is opened this fall as far west as Route 46. Some speculation is that it will take the name of Route 46, which now follows N. Main St. and E. Park Ave. through town, but when the bypass is completed by its extension from the present Route 46 intersection west to its intersection with Route 14 northwest of town, it will probably resume the designation of Route 14, which will then be abandoned between the east and west terminals of the by-pass.

A Trip To The Holy Land

By REV. HAROLD B. WINN

Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church, is participating in a flying seminar with a group of other Protestant ministers who will visit the Holy Land and interesting points in Europe. He describes his travels in a series of articles sent back to The Salem News.

Rome, the capital of the ancient empire and the center of the Catholic world, is on our agenda today. The city's temperature is "fire hot" after the coolness of Switzerland, which we left two hours and 30 minutes before.

Despite the offer of breakfast in bed, I was up and down stairs early. Shaking off peddlers all the way, we started on a tour of the city. We saw the church where the persecutor of Christians, Nero, died. Years later at this same spot, Martin Luther, father of the Reformation, spent two years.

Here too are the stairways where Luther received the revelation, "the just shall live by faith." I thought especially of Rev. John Bauman and Rev. G. D. Keister at this spot.

After crossing the Tiber River, our party made its way to Vatican City and the Basilica of St. Peter. The huge square there was known as the circus of Nero and was the scene of martyrdom for countless Christians. St. Peter was supposed to have died there on a cross in A.D. 67.

The Vatican City, with 108 acres, has a population of 1,000 people. From the Basilica we went to the Vatican Palace, and Sistine Chapel with its famous alfresco "The Last Judgment" by Michelangelo and "The Creation of the World."

The siesta and late hours are a part of the life here. Wonder how Bob McCulloch and the Chamber of Commerce would like the idea of having all the stores closed for siesta between 1 and 4 p.m. then open to 8 p.m.

Rome is filled with historic interest. Yesterday we visited the Maritime prison and were shown the dingy, dank place where Apostle Paul was supposed to have been imprisoned, and from whence came his letters to Timothy.

The feeling that Christianity has been purchased and brought to us at a tremendous price is found in the Colosseum where so many Christians died. Visited a Quaker Church here and the service is much different than at home.

The plumbers in Salem, such as Homer and Bob Ellyson, Kent Gilbert, Pete Stratton, Salem Plumbing and others would be interested to know that four fixtures make up a bathroom on the continent, not three as in the United States. Here, each bathroom has a large foot bowl, also.

Augustus Caesar said, "I found Rome a city of bricks and left it a city of marble." This marble is in evidence everywhere.

White uniforms, hats, gloves and shoes comprise the standard police attire here.

It is interesting to purchase or pay for services here. The official rate of exchange is 625 lire for one U. S. Dollar. Thus, to buy almost anything you must part with several thousand Italian lire, and I am not used to having "thousands" in my pocket.

Unusual names seen here are "The Bank of the Holy Spirit" and the "Pharmacy of the Saviour." The railway station, in contrast to the other buildings, is most modern (built with Marshall plan money). Tomorrow we leave Rome for Cairo.

It seems that the further we get from the states the more red tape we run into. Passports and visas are necessary equipment on the continent. A person's history is filled both on entering and leaving a country.

Noticeable here is the absence of flies and mosquitoes and all windows are kept wide open. But even that wouldn't persuade me to live in Rome.

I cannot say that Italian food altogether agrees with me. I understand Claire Booth Luce is leaving Rome because of a "Roman stomach" (like lead). In honesty I must say the food is very good and sufficient, though not always satisfying.

What I want is a glass of Salem water but I understand that from here on we will have to use only water that has been boiled, as any other is not safe.

Since I left Salem a week ago we have traveled over 6,000 miles and have spent six days in the cities of Paris and Rome.

We flew over the Anzio beach-head on the Mediterranean coast shortly after we left Rome. We passed over Naples and saw Vesuvius with the remains of Pompeii, an active city some 1870 years ago.

We have a short stop at Athens on the way to Cairo but on the return flight will stay three days.

I am making good use of the camera that my Sunday School gave me and have taken about 200 shots so far. As colored slides, they can be shown by projector. (Tomorrow Cairo).

Mr. Cooper Disillusions

By INEZ ROBB

Into each life some rain must fall. But I think I have a right to object to being hit with the water bucket.

Without previous warning or preparation I opened a picture magazine recently and there was Gary Cooper, the two-gun guy, being put to rout by a 90-pound heifer.

Here was the ridin', ropin', lopin' scourge of the prairies, the curse of cattle rustlers from the Rio Grande to the Yellowstone, hightailing it for cover with a little heifer in hot pursuit.

A HEIFER, may I add, that any half-grown kid in the Boise Valley could hog-tie or bull-doze with one hand tied behind his back.

It is no exaggeration to say that my world collapsed. If I had read that Clark Gable had just come down with rheumatism or that Sir Laurence Olivier had lost the Battle of Agincourt, my girlish dreams could scarce have been more blasted by the withering word.

I am accustomed to Mr. Cooper kissing the horse in his operas, but not the dust! We can expect the collapse of law and order in the whole cow country as the result of these pictures of the western dreamboat fleeing from what amounts to a playful calf.

MARK MY WORDS, the next time Ol' Slim, with his two guns, is sent out to work over the rustlers, these gents will laugh in his face. For, mind you, the calf wasn't even armed.

Mr. Cooper's retreat to a prepared position, whether a strategic or tactical move, may eventually be rated one of the most costly in history.

It could be the straw, to mix a metaphor, that can send the tottering movies into complete collapse.

Illusion is the sweet essence of the cinema and Mr. Cooper has struck it a death blow. If he were to play every Zane Grey hero rolled into one in the near future, if he were ridin' and ropin' from now till doomsday, millions will always remember the pictures of him running from a calf that probably only wanted his autograph in the first place.

OL' SLIM won't ever be so tall in the saddle again.

Something else, too: The first picture of Mr. Cooper's ignominious adventure in a Spanish bullring, where he had no business in the first place, shows the ol' cow hand from the Rio Grande in profile and glasses.

Now it may be the Cooper stance or it may be the pleats in his trousers, but there is shattering evidence here that Ol' Slim is developing a small corporation and had better watch his calories.

For some years now, I have idly wondered how the elongated actor kept his levis in place and his holster above his hips. But, honey, that's one worry I don't have today.

AS FOR the glasses—let me put it this way: When I was a kid, I never saw Bill Hart ridin' the range in bifocals. Or running from a playful calf that stands no more than knee-high to a Cooper.

I was born on a cattle ranch, and I have never yet seen the wranglers or the head of the posse squinting into the sun or casing the horizon through specs.

I am accustomed to Bing Crosby wearing a transformation when he goes formal and to George Jessel wearing one when he just goes. I know none of us is getting any younger, and that life catches up with all of us.

But did Gary Cooper have to let that calf catch up with him? Definitely, his grip is slowing.

7th Pilgrimage To Carey Shrine Set For Aug. 16

LEETONIA — Members of St. Patrick's Catholic Church have completed plans for their seventh annual pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Conception in Carey, O., Aug. 16. More than 30 persons are expected to make the trip this year by chartered bus and others are expected to follow in private cars. The bus is scheduled to leave here Sunday morning at 3:30 a.m. and will return about 10 p.m.

Church services at 10:45 a.m. will be resumed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Aug. 9 after one week's vacation. The church council will hold their postponed meeting Tuesday evening in the pastor's study at 8 o'clock.

THE PENNSYLVANIA Railroad crossing at Walnut Street has been closed to traffic this week for extensive repairs and the freight station is receiving a new roof. The overhanging roof that extended over the freight platform has been removed.

Mrs. Marcus S. Holt entertained bridge club associates at her home Wednesday evening. Miss Mabel Middleton, Mrs. William Atkinson and Mrs. Raymond Baker were prize winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thatcher and daughter Donna of Plainfield, Mass. visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stambaugh.

Mrs. Katherine Mosier, and daughter Mrs. Raymond L. Baker, have returned to their home after a 10-day visit with Mrs. Mosier's sister, Mrs. L. C. Merrill at Wallston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Spatholt and Miss Estella Graham are spending two weeks at Fort Severn Lodge, Canada.

Mrs. Kathryn Young of New York City is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cook.

Hays Appointed To Probe Committee

Representative Wayne L. Hays of the 18th congressional district has been appointed by House Speaker Joseph Martin as a member of a special committee to investigate tax exempt foundations.

The committee was created by a House resolution passed July 27. Other members of the committee are Republican Representatives Reece of Tennessee, Wolcott of Michigan, Goodwin of Massachusetts and Democratic Representative Frost of Idaho.

In a House debate on the establishment of the committee, Reece stated he wanted to investigate the Ford Foundation which plans a study of Congressional procedures.

In reply Hays said any foundation or individual has the right to suggest rules of procedure or to criticize rules if they disagree with them.

In accepting the committee appointment Hays stated he would undertake the assignment with an open mind, would participate in no witch hunt, but would give a thorough and objective study to matters within the committee's purview.

NLRB Cuts Its List Of Pending Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board says it has cut its list of pending cases to the lowest point since the Taft-Hartley law went into effect.

While both unions and employers complained of delays, and Congress studied ways of speeding up NLRB, the board itself and General Counsel George Bott have been quietly streamlining.

Now they claim "spectacular reductions" in time spent on cases at all levels. NLRB gets 15,000 cases a year.

The backlog of cases now is 4,318, compared with 5,348 a year ago.

The average time from filing a petition for an NLRB election to a decision after hearing is now a record 54 days, compared with 90 days required a year ago.

NLRB said the output was boosted by eliminating paper work, by using a telephone call where correspondence might take a long period of time, and by holding regional clinics to pass along beneficial procedures worked out in other areas.

More than 70 per cent of American railroad passenger service is handled by diesel locomotives.

1 1/2 Million Germans Get Free Food

BERLIN (AP)—The East Germans call them "Ami-pakete"—American packages. But there's nothing in or on them to show their American origin.

More than a million and a half hunger sufferers under communism have received the Western food in the first 10 days of the U. S.-financed, German-operated food relief program in West Berlin.

But what the hungry hordes from the East are getting in the West Berlin giveaway is not one big package. It is——two pounds of "schmalz," pork lard in unmarked cellophane; —two pounds of white flour in an unmarked cloth sack; —a pound of dried peas in an unmarked paper bag; —four small cans of milk.

To hold these, the East Germans bring their own shopping bags, briefcases, suitcases and other carryalls. In them go the individual items of free food for the trip home, past the grabbing hands of Communist border police.

Some of the schmalz came originally in cardboard cartons with American labels. Mindful of Communist threats to seize the food and wreak vengeance on its recipients, Western welfare workers ripped off the cartons at the food distribution centers. The lard is handed over in the tough inner cellophane wrapping.

Some of the flour also comes from the storehouses in cartons with American labels. It goes into unidentifiable cloth sacks.

The canned milk came from a West German company with a famous American name. The label was in the German language. The hungry ripped off most of the labels before they reached the Iron Curtain border.

Despite these precautions, at least 50,000 East Germans have been stopped by the Red police and robbed of their food gifts.

CHARGED IN SLAYING

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—James McCray, 32, has been bound to the grand jury on a second degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of gun dealer Stephen Creasy, 59, last Saturday. McCray pleaded innocent yesterday in Municipal Court. Creasy was killed in an exchange of shots with another man at his store. McCray, who was treated for gunshot wounds at a City Hospital, told police he "blacked out" Saturday and knew nothing of the shooting.

A Notice to New Home Buyers and Builders...

Annual gas deliveries to Natural Gas Company of West Virginia customers have increased about 125 per cent during the past seven years. At the present time we are furnishing gas for heating the homes of one of every five of our residential customers. That represents a 600% gain in that period.

That's a substantial growth in gas service—made possible, however, only by the completion of a $5,500,000 construction program over the seven years.

But there are still a few new homes being put up for sale with unauthorized gas heating installations.

If you build or buy one of those homes, we must say to you that we cannot supply you with gas for heating it.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home, then save yourself that discomfort and inconvenience. Be sure the home you plan to buy is covered by a permit for gas heat.

The regulations under which we are now operating are designed to protect gas service to all our customers.

We are certain you'll agree that it would be unfair to jeopardize gas service to homes, business places and industries throughout our territory by allowing illegal gas heating installations to drain off gas we now have available for authorized customers.

If you are looking for a new home,
then let us caution you again:

Be sure the home you plan to buy is covered by a permit for gas heat!

Revolutionists Will Know

The visible unrest in East Germany which is making it impossible for the Communists to enforce their own rules could be the beginning of major trouble. Or it could be no more than a symptom of the kind of a problem any police state can expect from time to time.

The curious thing about this sort of thing in the 20th century is that the world's only experts in revolution are the same people responsible for putting down whatever revolutions may erupt in Russia's satellite states.

When and if they do erupt, the revolutionists will know when they are serious. They have made a study of ways and means of stirring up unrest, until it finally explodes against authority and shatters all the rules and regulations.

Would-be revolutionists from all over the world have flocked to Moscow in the last generation to study the bloody art of revolution in the Lenin Institute. They have learned everything that can be reduced to a formula, from rumor-planting to grabbing the bridle of the mounted policeman's horse in a street skirmish.

When real revolution begins and the angry crowds mill and murmur, the experts will know what is happening. It is a thought for these times that they will be the first to know that their own days are numbered and may die with the secret.

Victory In Arizona

It is reassuring after a fashion that an offensive drive which had been planned for 26 months by the state of Arizona was carried off so efficiently at dawn on July 26 that the enemy was captured without a shot.

Thirty-six men and 86 women, with 263 children, all residents of Short Creek, a polygamist community, were rounded up by 120 policemen. Their existence, according to an official statement, constituted a rebellion against the state which had been in existence since the 1930s.

At least $50,000 went into the cost of the drive to protect their fair name of Arizona, and everybody was a little disappointed when the polygamists refused to put up a battle. They just raised the American flag and stood under it, waiting for the invaders to assert their armed mastery over their isolated community.

The story has been receiving close attention from all citizens who keep wondering why something isn't done about it when a few dozen hoodlums defy the law in non-isolated communities. Perhaps it supplies the answer to their question.

No one ever has $50,000, plus 120 policemen, plus 26 months to get ready to do something about hoodlums.

Remember Stalin?

The Communist party had its historical beginning 50 years ago, according to the current version of its historians. The anniversary was celebrated in Moscow a few days ago.

Nothing was said about Stalin, who used Communism only as bait for a counter-revolution. Persons coming out of Russia and the satellite countries report that nothing ever is said about Stalin now that he's dead.

Yet, while he was alive, his name was on every tongue. His picture was displayed in every village square. There was endless speculation about his passing thoughts and the significance of his words. A grant from his mustache mouth was analyzed and appraised as carefully as the old Roman fakers used to analyze and appraise the entrails of dead chickens.

It was all a fraud, as far as his survivors are concerned. Beria was a fraud, too. It's far too early to be having vagrant thoughts about Halloween, but that's what comes to mind whenever the Russians take off one mask and put on another one.

Who will scare us silly next — Malenkov, Zhukov, Molotov, Vasilevsky, Sokolovsky — or do they motivate someone who hasn't heard of yet?

Rift In The Socialist Lute

Under the heading of Signs of Life in Britain we feel like filing an item that the youngish Earl of Derby (35) is heading an association to wrest television from the British Broadcasting Corp.

This is the famed outfit of applied socialism which caters to the idea that advertising is an affront to persons with tender sensibilities and therefore should be outlawed in favor of all-out government control.

Occasionally, the same idea bobs up over here, as if it would be better somehow if the government refused to let private enterprise pay the cost of radio and television programs. People who think this way are frequently the same ones who think it would be better if the politicians took charge of everything.

It's reassuring to know that some Britons are not sold on socialism in communications and are seeking, instead, to develop signs of life in an economic system in grave need of a few singing commercials to pep it up and get it out of bankruptcy.

Congress Appraisal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It Stopped The Ship From Sinking

Appraisals of the 83rd Congress are being made on every side—by the partisans particularly.

Neither the Republican appraisal that this was a great Congress—a Congress of achievement which matched the first six months of the FDR administration—nor the Democratic appraisal that the Republicans did little or nothing except with the help of the minority is really a fair or correct size-up.

The truth is that the Congress which has just ended merely held the line. It kept the American economic and fiscal situation from disintegrating further.

It can be likened to the stopping of a fire, but this doesn't mean the structure has been rebuilt or will look the same when it is reconstructed.

Most of the policies embodied in the legislation passed by the 83rd Congress were extensions of or a continuation of the acts of the Democratic administrations of the last 20 years.

The spending was almost along the same line and for virtually the same purposes as before.

The same Reciprocal Trade Act as has been on the statute books was extended.

The same excess-profits-tax law, which everybody denounces, was retained and the cut in personal income taxes due next January was, of course, legislated by the Democrats.

The real reason why the Democratic party cooperated in Congress was because it couldn't do otherwise. There was nothing minded or bipartisan about it.

The Democrats could hardly repudiate their own record by voting against policies they had initiated.

It can be argued with some merit that they could have aided the Republicans and the country far more by insisting on cuts in the spending. But, with a narrow margin, the Republicans themselves could take no chances on the frustration of the whole program if the Democrats were going to insist on voting for higher expenditures.

Certainly a coalition of Republican and Democratic spenders would have been difficult to beat without cooperation between the Republican and Democratic leaders.

The two parties evidently didn't have a sufficiently strong alliance to cut the big appropriations down.

The most charitable thing that can be said about the whole situation is that an inexperienced President and Cabinet came into power, surveyed the "mess" that had been made of the fiscal situation in the last 20 years, and found that it couldn't be cleaned up in six months.

The alternative was to hold the line, make some cuts, and hope that the next session of Congress would see further cuts.

Raising of the debt limit can become a major issue. It may symbolize a determined effort to cut spending if the limit isn't raised or it may signify an indefinite spending policy if the limit is raised.

The sensible thing for the administration to do is to get at the budget figures between now and next January and come up with a program that shows a balance for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954, so that no raising of the debt limit will be necessary except for a few months.

A debt-limit raise confined to a few months would not be difficult to get through Congress and would act as a deterrent against more spending.

No one can expect miracles from any new administration in its first six months.

The habit of looking to Congress to pass a lot of reform laws still persists. The New Deal and Fair Deal psychology is still deeply ingrained here.

The fact that Congress didn't reform the entire social structure and give it a further push toward state socialism is lamented by the disciples of the New Deal and Fair Deal.

The failure to transform the country into the kind of economic utopia envisioned by some Republicans, after reading a few of the ultra-Republican campaign speeches of Gen. Eisenhower, will bring its disappointments in some quarters.

On the whole, the Republicans in Congress came out better than anyone who is experienced in the crosscurrents of legislative maelstroms really believed possible.

It was a hold-the-line Congress or, to switch metaphors, a Congress that stopped the ship from sinking. But the holes are by no means plugged and water is still coming in and will have to be bailed out to keep afloat.

Our Fashion Set

By TRUMAN TWILL

Like the other men I have talked to about this matter of shortening women's skirts, I have no interest one way or the other in the economics of fashion.

None of us owns any stock in the women's wear business or has anything to gain or lose if fashions change. Contrary to a common impression, a middle-class married man takes it in the neck about so deep each year for his wife's clothing, regardless of fashion changes.

The killing from a radical change is made in high-fashion circles where a female clothes horse can afford to ditch a whole wardrobe to stay in the swim. In our set, the girls are mighty cute about making over their mother huddles and hooverettes from one season to the next.

But the men in our set have their ideas about this, and it would be a pity if no one voiced them.

The men do not care what any poise - pinkie - poof in Paris says about fashion, the best fashion in the Christian era—and we don't mean Dior—is the one that makes women look the way they've been looking for the last few years.

Men despise too-short skirts because they make women look ungraceful and hoydenish. Men despise too-long skirts because they make women look like refugee witches from a road company of "Macbeth."

Men do not like any kind of padding which puts lumps where nature did not intend that lumps should be. Men think nature knows more about lumps than the prance-dances in the couturier parlors.

Men do not take to styles which suggest extremism. Hobble skirts, picture hats, low waist lines, high waist lines, shoulder pads, funny sleeves and funny skirts leave men chilled and a little ill.

Men are not vain enough to believe that women dress to please them, because men eventually learn that a woman's primary aim in choosing her clothes is to impress women. When it is a matter of pleasing men, women have more intricate weapons to carry into battle than the output of the ready-to-wear industry or even the one-to-a-customer salons.

All that any reasonable man expects out of the fashion racket is an even break. The women can wear whatever they please as long as it does not make them as witchy and unattractive as they have been in some of the get-ups they have relied on to give their deadly rivals fits since the United States saved the world the first time.

Fortunately, most women seem to agree that their wisest course is to stick reasonably close to the styles now in vogue, with moderate variations. They will encounter no resistance if they dip into the family budget for something that makes them look as good as they've been looking, minus depreciation.

But if they let themselves be cajoled into having to suggest to their husbands that the family sugar bowl should be cleaned for a get-up to make them look like extras for a costume drama on summer Teevee, there will be a husbandly howl that will rattle the fragile sensibilities of every designer who understands profanity and Anglo-Saxon.

It was not the intention to make this sound like a threat. But as one husband who has stuck with his lollipop through skirts down to here, then up to here, through waistlines that hung way down here, then way up... quit, you're tickling... there is a limit to how much a male can stand.

She looks good the way she is, see. See?

Uncle Et Says—

Having knocked out the plug hat, Judge Boles says he thinks President Ike would get a lot of male support if he'd give tail coats, hard-boiled shirts and wing collars the same treatment.

I speak as to wise men; judge ye what I say.—I. Cor. 10:15.

Still Holding the Bag

Sitting In Judgment

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

No one can be so positive about his own position as to deny the possibility of error. If it were otherwise, men would be gods. There used to be a theologian's concept of Adam as a complete man, standing from Earth to Heaven, knowing everything living forever, bisexual.

Fortunate I say, Adam got a wife and stopped being perfect.

Politicians, columnists, editors and clergymen project their personalities and opinions as an ordinary function of their professions and it is not astonishing that they should, at times, become so sure of themselves that they grow intolerant of differences.

THE FUNDAMENTAL difference between the American and the Marxist concept of life is that great varieties of views and practices are tolerable in our country. On the other hand, we have made the astounding discovery that since 1934, a number of Americans, some of whom managed to achieve positions of distinction and importance, have been engaged in espionage against their own country.

Espionage is an ugly vocation. The spy is a hated creature. The man who spies against his own country, whether for money or for ideological reasons, is held in contempt by other men.

Nations devise all sorts of means for protecting themselves against spies, because the lives of decent people and the existence of the state are imperiled by them.

The Rosenbergs, for instance may have been able to rationalize their espionage, but the end result of their conduct can be the destruction of our cities, our industries and millions of lives.

IT WAS Congress, not the Rosenbergs, that was empowered to decide the right or wrong of the secrecy of the atom bomb.

If private judgment alone is to prevail, then there can be no security, no defense against an enemy, no discipline in the armed forces.

Dean Francis B. Sayre, Jr., of the Episcopal Cathedral of Washington, D.C., made this point:

"It comes mighty close to tempting God when anyone operates on the assumption that they are the divinely constituted guardians of other men's consciences, other men's patriotism or thoughts."

"Once the church occupied this role—but when it abused the power as it sometimes did, the modern world would trust it no longer. Yet today this power is in the hands of men far less responsible."

HE IS, of course, correct as far as he goes. Yet, if a man commits murder, do we leave him solely to the judgment of God?

I am not saying that Dean Sayre takes that position, but I do ask, at what point may the State interfere with private conscience and personal practice?

If at no point, we live in an anarchy; if everywhere and totally, we live under Fascism.

The American system is that the State interferes to protect its own existence and the lives of its people by due process of law.

What is due process? Is a Congressional investigation into espionage not due process?

This is not a subject for controversy but for the determination of fact.

ALL FEDERAL laws are passed by Congress—a law denying the right to spy as well as a law establishing a committee of Congress. The Supreme Court of the United States can determine whether such acts conform with the letter and intent of Congress. In each instance here cited the courts have so determined.

Therefore an interrogation before a congressional committee is as much due process of law as a trial in a court.

Neither is a completed process. In a case in court, the defendant has the right of appeal.

The Rosenbergs appealed to the Supreme Court six or seven times, depending upon how one counts the appearances.

In the instance of a congressional interrogation, the witness, if held in contempt, can have his day in court.

ESPIONAGE is very difficult to prove under our laws. Alger Hiss could only be held for perjury. Remington was held for perjury. Judith Coplon, caught red-handed, won her freedom by technicalities and attrition.

With all the work that has been done in this field since 1938 by three congressional committees, the Department of Justice, and the FBI, the actual pattern of Russian espionage in the United States, the method of recruitment and infiltration in government, is not fully formed.

Naturally, a conspiracy does not operate so that the conspirators will be readily caught and the nature of the conspiracy disclosed.

Vaccination of Babies Is Smallpox Safeguard

Mrs. C., in a recent letter, raises an interesting question which I imagine has troubled many mothers.

"I am hesitant in having my eight-month-old baby vaccinated against smallpox, thinking it too young for this. My pediatrician advises, however, that no harm will come of it. What is your opinion?"

I agree emphatically with the pediatrician. Here is why:

For several hundred years smallpox was a scourge of mankind throughout most of the world. At one time it was more common than measles.

During the 18th century nearly everyone contracted smallpox before reaching maturity. More than one-half million persons died every year, and during that century alone, 60,000,000 persons were lost as a result of smallpox.

Smallpox now is fortunately rare in civilized countries. The fight against this horrible disease took a new turn in 1718 when Lady Mary Wortley Montagu introduced into England the practice of inoculation.

This simply involved taking material from a pock or pustule of a person suffering with the disease and scratching it on the skin of a person (usually a child) who had never had smallpox.

This produced the disease in the inoculated person, but it was usually less severe and caused less scarring than if the disease had been caught in the usual way.

The great discovery came about 1796 when Edward Jenner, a country practitioner and son of a clergyman in Gloucestershire, England, made his famous experiment on a boy, James Phipps.

Jenner noticed that the milkmaids of the district in which he lived did not seem to get smallpox even when almost all others in the community came down with the disease.

He pondered this fact, observing that most of the milkmaids had small scars on their hands as a result of a mild disease, called cowpox, present on the udders of cows.

Finally, on a farm close to his home there was an outbreak of cowpox. One of the milkmaids, Sarah Nelmes, was infected and, with pus taken from a pustule on her hand, Jenner inoculated James Phipps.

This boy developed the usual changes on the skin which are characteristic of what we now call vaccination.

Six weeks later Jenner inoculated young Phipps with pus from a patient with smallpox and sat down to wait anxiously.

The vaccination "took" and later the boy proved resistant to smallpox. It was in this way that modern vaccination was born.

Since Jenner's classic experiment vaccination has proved its worth thousands of times and has prevented millions of deaths.

It is the only real safeguard we have against this terrifying disease; original vaccination at six months of age or even earlier is advised.

The Santa Fe and Southern Railroads used the first diesel-electric freight engines, in 1941.

Agenda For Korean Peace

It is this column's prediction that the coming U.N. session on Korea will run something like this:

1.—The meeting of the General Assembly will be preceded by a roll call of the interpreters and a check to see if all have shown up and are fit and ready for the new ordeal.

The chair will call the meeting to order, suggesting that all members wear iron helmets and volunteer to serve for the duration of the peace talks.

2.—A proposal that delegates refrain from digging trenches or dugouts in the floors and walls of the meeting hall will be made and tabled.

3.—The chair will explain that the purpose of the session is to reach an agreement on a peaceful settlement in Korea.

The words "peaceful settlement" will not be out of his mouth before a hostile mood will settle over the premises.

4.—Meeting will be interrupted by word that all but two on the staff employed to convey complaints of truce violations from the Communies have broken down, and that it will be necessary to employ mule trains.

5.—There will be word that the Polish and Czech members of the "neutral commission" in Korea have opened combat with the Swiss and Swedish members.

Russia will claim that the Swedes and Swiss entered Korea illegally as tools of Wall Street.

6.—Things will look bad, but the Indian delegation will urge patience and suggest the naming of a neutral board to investigate the neutral board.

7.—Britain will express extreme annoyance at the way the proceedings are holding up British trade with the enemy.

8.—Somebody will notice that the 90-day period has just about elapsed during the debates so far.

The Communies will deny anything was ever said about 90 days.

Russia will again demand that Red China be seated or the whole peace negotiations be called on account of darkness. The darkness will be attributed to imperialism.

9.—It will be found that so many complaints of truce violations have come in from the Communies that U.N. has had to lease the basement of Madison Square Garden to file the allegations.

10.—Moscow will propose that every meeting be opened with a half-hour's exhortation of Dr. Rhee, the Polish delegate, and will press a resolution that President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles be tried as war criminals.

11.—Britain will hint that the U.S. goes too far when it stands firmly for the U.N. pledges, for a united Korea, for promises to Dr. Rhee and for anything that will hurt business.

There will be word from Korea that the battle between the Polish and Czech members of the neutral commission and the other members is getting hotter and that both sides are asking for air cover.

12.—There will be overwhelming evidence that the Chinese have built new airfields, developed radar stations, etc., and haven't missed a bet in getting the jump in the next outbreak of hostilities.

Mr. Vishinsky will arrive with a four-hour explanation that not a thing has been built on Korean airfields except hot-dog stands.

13.—Somebody will discover that it is January, 1954, with a peace still in the oxygen tent.

The chairman hoping for an agreement on what month it is, will ask for a vote confirming the calendar. There will be 32 abstentions.

India will propose a commission to determine whether it is January or February.

14.—Hollywood will make an offer for the film rights instead of going abroad for a contemplated war picture.

7 Gls Refuse To Leave Reds

POWs Reveal More Prison Camp Brutality

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (U)—Two American soldiers fresh from a North Korean prison camp said today about seven fellow Americans had refused repatriation, preferring to live under communism.

Other liberated Americans added to the mounting evidence of Communist brutality and disregard for human life.

They told of mass burials, trials for "instigating against the peace" and relentless propaganda lectures—sometimes by fellow Americans.

Pvt. Steve Glowacki, 22, of 274 Franklin St., Brooklyn, New York, and Pfc. Thomas R. Murray of Baltimore, both said the Americans who turned down a chance to go home were at the Pyoktong camp near the Manchurian border.

"They were the biggest 'progressives' in camp," Murray said, referring to the term Allied prisoners use for POWs who had been indoctrinated.

"They were having a party when we left," Glowacki said. "I didn't associate with them."

A liberated South Korean said many of his countrymen had been frightened into staying in the North—sometimes even as they were within short miles of freedom.

He said the Reds told South Koreans POWs they would be shot by ROK troops if they returned to their homes.

The South Korean, Pfc. Park Young Ho, 27, said the Red propaganda continued even as the ROK prisoners were being moved to Kaesong for repatriation. Five or six South Koreans, he said, refused repatriation at the last minute.

An American officer at the nearby South Korean processing center said only 244 ROKs were delivered today, although the Communists had promised to return 250.

Another American who was held at the Pyoktong camp said "close to 2,000" Americans, British and other U. N. troops were buried in shallow graves during the winter and spring of 1951.

"CAPTAIN" TRUMAN REVIEWS OLD UNIT—Former President Harry S. Truman reviews the honor guard as he arrives at Camp Ripley, Minn., to visit with his old outfit, Battery D of the Missouri 35th Infantry Division, which he commanded as a captain during World War I. The unit is on its annual encampment.

"There are no markers at all," Sgt. I. C. Junior E. Dunlap, 24, of McCorkle, W. Va., said. "We buried them on the North Korean side of the Yalu River on a hill."

"Some we buried at the edge of the water because we were too weak to carry them up the hill. We only got some of them halfway covered. The ground was frozen, and we were too weak to dig. We laid them up against an embankment and scraped dirt and stones over them."

Dunlap said that of 3,000 Allied soldiers at Pyoktong in late January, 1951, only 1,400 were still alive in mid-summer. Dunlap, a tank commander, was captured in November, 1950.

Pfc. William Skipper of Gallivants Ferry, S. C. estimated that 1,000 men died at Pyoktong from January, 1951, until the camp broke up Aug. 1, 1953.

"Most of them died from dysentery," he said. "The Communists tried to treat it but their medicine was no good. You'd get shed of it and then you'd get it right back after you'd eat the food."

An Indiana corporal, taken prisoner when he was only 17, estimated at least 1,000 Americans died of pneumonia and other diseases during his nearly three years of captivity at Pyoktong.

Cpl. Harry C. Copeland of Muncie, Ind., said the British and Turkish soldiers adapted more readily than the Americans to the sparse Oriental diet of millet and rice.

The Americans "couldn't eat, couldn't hold it down," Copeland said. "A lot of guys died—they gave up hope."

Two Americans related how a U. S. officer lectured them on germ warfare.

Pfc. John A. Keen, 20, Naples, Fla., said he thought the officer was forced to give the lectures.

The officer related that he himself participated in dropping germs on Communist territory, Keen said. His name was not disclosed.

Cpl. Raymond E. Mills, 22, Rt. 2, West Palm Beach, Fla., joined Keen in saying that he did not believe the officer's story.

The Communists carried on a propaganda campaign throughout much of the war that the United States was waging germ warfare. High U. S. officials denied the accusations repeatedly.

Cpl. Donald V. Sherrick, 21, of Sioux City, Iowa, who said he sat in on the germ warfare lectures by the American officer, related that one U. S. enlisted man was given a one-year sentence for "instigating against the peaceful life."

Other liberated prisoners have told similar stories of communist "trials."

National Shrine To Be Built In Georgia

ATLANTA (U)—Every state in the nation will participate in building a national historical shrine that may cost as much as 40 million dollars on Pine Mountain near Warm Springs, Ga.

Plans for the gigantic memorial were announced by Charles F. Palmer of Atlanta, war-time special assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt whose vacation retreat was near the site.

Palmer, chairman of the Hall of Our History, a non-profit educational corporation organized in 1952, estimated it will take 10 years to complete the monolithic structure.

The shrine to American history will be 40 feet long, 280 feet wide and 90 feet high. It will be in the form of an open hall upon whose walls will be inscribed in high relief a chronological history of the United States.

About $145,000, contributed by two sources of private wealth that prefer to remain anonymous have spent on research, plans and models for the project.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay of New York is vice-chairman, and Robert V. Fleming of Washington, D. C., is treasurer of the organization sponsoring the shrine.

Palmer, a prominent Atlanta real estate developer, said he expects ground breaking ceremonies to be held later this year. Public participation in support of the monument will begin in February, 1954, he said.

Ike Vetoes Movie Ticket Tax Repeal

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill which would have repealed the 20 per cent federal tax on movie tickets.

It was the first major piece of legislation Eisenhower has refused to approve.

In a "memorandum of disapproval," he said he was taking this step because the government cannot afford the loss of revenue and "it is unfair to single out one industry for relief at this time."

The action amounted to a "pocket veto"—that is, letting a bill go unsigned while Congress was not in session. This has the effect of killing the legislation.

Cherry Bomb Not Good For Killing Mosquitoes

CHERRY GROVE BEACH, S. C. (U)—Two small boys, forbidden by their mother to buy firecrackers, were caught with the goods when they returned from the grocery store.

But they evaded a trip to the woodshed by telling their mother that their cherry bomb really was a smoke bomb for getting rid of mosquitoes. She was satisfied and put the bomb on a kitchen shelf.

That night while cooking supper she noticed some mosquitoes. She put the smoke bomb on the table, lit it and casually walked away.

Results—A loud wham, shattered nerves, one ruined table cloth, some broken dishes, a box of salt dropped into a pot of peas, and two padded posteriors.

Ohio Legislators Won't Change Election Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Ohio Republicans today decided to pass up any attempt to change Ohio's election laws to permit a quick special election for naming a successor to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

In World War II there were about 50,000 battle deaths of Americans in the Pacific area.

Youth Confesses Setting Costly Industrial Fires

MARION, Ohio (U)—Marion police chief Tom Coon said today an 18-year-old youth had confessed starting a series of destructive industrial fires here from June 15 to July 15.

Coon identified the youth as Paul Edwin Holycross, and said he would file arson charges against him today or tomorrow.

Holycross was taken into custody Wednesday, Coon said, after a guard at the Marion Power Shovel Co. storage lot spotted him trying to start another fire.

Coon said the youth confessed starting six fires which caused loss estimated at $227,000. The chief quoted Holycross as saying he started the fires "just to have something to do," and because he "liked to watch fire engines go by."

Bull Can't Stop Hiccoughing, Is Killed

WILMINGTON, Ohio (U)—Four months of hiccoughing were ended today for Pete, the bull.

He was taken to a slaughter house and killed, because he showed no signs of recovering.

Pete's owner, Jerry Shanks of Martinsville, had put the 17-month-old bull out to pasture last April, when an operation by veterinarians at Ohio State University failed to stop his hiccoughs.

The vets and Shanks tried everything they knew, but Pete just kept on hiccoughing.

Miss Naomi Elizabeth Ovington Is Wed To Herman J. Romero

At noon Wednesday in the rectory of St. Charles Church in Albuquerque, N.M., Miss Naomi Elizabeth Ovington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Ovington of RD, Salem, became the bride of Herman J. Romero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph V. Romero of Albuquerque.

Only the immediate families were witness to the nuptials. The couple exchanged their vows and rings in the presence of Rev. Dr. Daniel Rice. A cousin of the bride, Dr. H. L. January, gave her in marriage in a floral setting which combined rhododendron and fern with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

For the "something old, new, borrowed and blue" tradition, the bride wore her aunt's pearl earrings, and carried a rosepointe lace handkerchief which belonged to her maternal grandmother. The only other jewelry she wore was a gold flagstone bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom.

In added complement to her gown of lace and nylon net over sat in the white orchid bouquet she carried, wreathed in stephanotis. The fitted French Chantilly lace bolero was designed with long pointed sleeves and the ballerina skirt of nylon net swirled to fullness over satin. Her elbow length veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet cap threaded with pearls.

Miss Jeanne Van Dusen of New York City, college roommate of the bride, and her only attendant, was gown in a short-sleeved ballerina gown in princess style. The off-white stiff silk material was sprinkled with sprays of green and blue and her accessories were blue. Off-white ribbon was arranged with yellow feathered carnations and de phinium in her bouquet.

Serving Mr. Romero was Bert Barnes of Albuquerque, best man. Richard Clark ushered the guests. In Albuquerque for her daughter's wedding was Mrs. Ovington. With her navy blue lace dress she wore blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Romero, the bridegroom's mother, in navy nylon net over taffeta, used white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple greeted some 60 friends and relatives at the reception in the garden at the home of Dr. January, cousin of the Salem people. Pastel flowers and similar were arranged on the buffet table and the table holding the bride's cake was covered with a lush satin cloth festooned with gardenias and smilax.

The bride's aunt, Miss Naomi Simpson of Kansas City, Mo., served the cake. Mrs. Ovington and Mrs. January were further assisted in the reception by Mrs. William Reardon, Miss Priscilla Thompson, another college friend, Mrs. T. R. Schifani and Nancy January.

Patricia Romero, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests, and little Carol January presented them with bags of rice to shower on the newlyweds as they departed.

For their honeymoon trip to Colorado, Mrs. Romero traveled in a grey-blue suit with contrasting blue accessories and the white orchid from her corsage.

The bride, who received her education at Western College for Women and Kent State University, and the bridegroom, who was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute and the University of Mexico, both are teachers in the Albuquerque school system.

Mr. Romero has recently received his commission as second lieutenant in the New Mexico National Guard. The couple will make their home there at 1100 Gold Ave., S.W.

The Play's The Thing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood is in the gimmick stage at present in its efforts to make the American public forget television.

Have you tried any of the new three-dimensional, wide-screened, technicolored popcorn with the built-in stereoscopic sound effects? A trip to Bermuda and a free life insurance policy with every box!

Seen any of those 3D films lately? It is like having a "chamber of horrors" dumped in your lap. Roller coasters reel toward you, snakes lash out from the screen at you, and when an actor throws a knife you can feel it sink into your own forehead. Man, you don't just see those pictures. You are in them. But you don't get paid.

The Hollywood motto seems to be:

"If you can't entertain 'em — startle 'em."

Therefore, it is pleasant to chronicle a strange experiment just completed by producer Buddy Adler.

the best story plot he could find, pick a good cast, and film it in just plain old-fashioned, two-dimensional black and white.

Well, 19 months and three million dollars later, Adler came up with "From Here to Eternity," one of 1953's big hits and a candidate for filmdom's all-time top 10 box office draws. And there isn't a new-fangled gimmick in the picture.

"You don't need gimmicks to get realism," said Adler.

Nearly two years ago he became interested in James Jones' best selling novel of professional Army life in Hawaii on the eve of Pearl Harbor.

"It had been turned down by every major studio," he said. "It was raw and violent, and I support most studios were afraid they wouldn't be able to get the Army's cooperation in filming it."

Adler thought that because of its many turnouts he could buy the movie rights for $10,000 or $15,000.

But the price tag was $82,000. President Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures read a summary of the story and said:

"Buy it."

That left Adler $82,000 in the hole, and no assurance the Army would give him the help he needed to make the picture the way he wanted. It took months to win the Army's okay.

Then Adler figured the total cost of the film would be three million, one of the largest budgets for any black and white film.

"Go ahead," Cohn told him. Adler

er, one of those rare producers who doesn't believe the "front office" spends its whole time stilling genius, said:

"I'm grateful to him for that. You know you can make a three million dollar picture and end up with a five million loss."

"The only thing I gamble with is my brain. He gambled with money. If the picture had flopped, I'd still have my mentality — well, most of it — but his money would be down the drain."

Adler also credited Cohn for picking Frank Sinatra for a top dramatic role, one in which Frankie doesn't sing a note.

"I was against that at first," Adler admitted, "but we flew Sinatra from Africa to make a test, and I was sold at first sight."

The film was shot in 60 days, much of it on the scene in Hawaiian Army barracks. Adler is hopeful it will outdraw the same studio's "Jolson Story," which grossed more than eight million to become one of the industry's gilded 10 greatest gold mines.

"You can't sell the public on gimmicks alone," said Adler.

"Shakespeare was right. 'The play's the thing.' If you don't have a good story to tell, you have nothing."

That's kind of a revolutionary idea, but if it spreads movie theaters won't have to depend so much on popcorn to turn a profit.

Salem Little Leaguers Defeated By Youngstown, 11-3

1,500 Fans See District Playoff

Salem, Youngstown Players To Be Feted

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

Manager Ralph Mancuso's Little League All-Stars were defeated by the District championship by Youngstown Southern, 11-3, last night at Roosevelt field in Campbell before a crowd of Youngstown and Salem fans estimated at 1,500 persons.

The highlight of Salem play in the tourney game was a pinch-hit home run in the last of the sixth inning by Don Shephard. Shephard hit the ball some 180 feet over the left center field fence. His home run was the only homer in the District playoff games.

Bob Murphy, pitcher for the Youngstown Southern All-Stars, struck out 10 Salem batters and allowed only six hits, two of them coming in the last inning. Murphy had good control, walking no Salem men. Youngstown had five errors but all of its hits, six singles and five doubles, were hard-hit balls.

Salem's losing hurler, Elmer Smith, fanned seven Youngstown batters while giving up 11 hits and walking four men.

Smith got into trouble in the first of the third, allowing five hits. Four Salem errors and Youngstown's five hits in that frame gave Youngstown seven runs.

Elmer Smith led the Salem batting with two hits in three times at bat. Bobby Stallsmith, Bob Kelly, Buddy Timbrook, and Don Shephard each had a single hit for the Salem All-Stars.

Bobby Stallsmith continued to be the talk of most of the spectators and Campbell Little League officials watching the contest. Most of the fans had seen Stallsmith pitch the game before and saw him in action in center field last night. Stallsmith is very cool and nothing seems to bother him on the field. He has 10 hits in 18 times at bat in tournament play for a .556 tourney average.

Salem received $83.45 as its share of the free will collection to help defray expenses of the trip to Campbell.

On Saturday night at the Campbell Y.M.C.A. both the Youngstown Southern All-Stars and the Salem squad will be feted at a dinner. Trophies will be presented to Youngstown, winner of the District 2 title, and to the runner up, Salem. Each of the players of both sides will receive a medal. Youngstown will play in the state finals next Tuesday at Timken Park in Canton at 4:30.

To get to play in the District tournament Salem All-Stars won three games and emerged as the champs in the Area playoffs held at East Liverpool and Salem. Salem defeated East Liverpool, 4-2, for its first win. The Tri-Township All-Stars were the next victims of Salem's attack, falling before the four-hit pitching of Bobby Stallsmith. Salem won the Area title and right to play in the District playoffs defeating the Wintersville All-Stars, 7-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Elmer Smith.

Salem then beat Niles Eastern to face Youngstown in the district playoffs last night. Elmer Smith has two victories in play and Bobby Stallsmith and Neil Paxson, one.

The Salem Little Leaguers paraded through town after their return last night, preceded by a small band in an open truck.

Wendell Church and Al Carlos were the Salem coaches and Mancuso's assistants. Members of the Salem Little League All Star squad were Buddy Timbrook, Larry Brown, Elmer Smith and Bobby Stallsmith from Sekley's; Neil Paxson and Richard Altomare from Fisher's News; Wally Kirkbride and Don Shephard from the Eljer Co.; Bob Kelley, Joe Wukotich, and Ralph Ehrhart of Mullins; Kenneth Malloy and Nelson Martin from the V.F.W.; and Freddy Brautigam of the Electric Furnace. Wukotich missed a good part of the Little League tourney play because of the mumps.

At top right, Fred Brautigam has both feet off the ground as he races to first place on an infield grounder. Brautigam was out on a close play.

At bottom, Bob Kelly, Salem catcher, waits for a throw that came too late as a Youngstown South All-Star crosses home plate with another run. Salem lost, 11-3.

BOATS CLOSE IN ON RUNAWAY CRAFT — Four boats powered by outboard motors are attempting to catch a run-away craft (making circle in center) in the Mississippi River one mile below the Golden Eagle Ferry crossing near St. Louis. Ray B. Hurt of Bridgeton, Mo., was tossed from the boat when it spun sharply after the motor started. He swam to shore. The pilotless craft spun about in a tight circle for 20 minutes until a small cabin cruiser pulled alongside and Phil Wismer of St. Louis county jumped into the small boat.

ericans, in their bleak Northern stockades.
Returning prisoners have told U. S. officers being sentenced for "instigating against peace."
In Washington, Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. N. Far East commander, told a news conference there is evidence the Reds hold from 2,000 to 3,000 more Americans than the 3,313 they listed for return. He also said, "thousands and thousands" of South Koreans are unaccounted for.
Clark said Washington instructed him to sign the armistice but reserving the right to press for information about additional captives in later proceedings.
Clark said the U. N. Command had to accept the Red figures or use military power to force the Reds to sign the truce.
He said that if the Reds break the truce he would favor using "any and every weapon" to retaliate. He did not specifically mention atomic weapons, but presumably his statement would cover them.

Clark, who is soon to retire as U. N. commander, is in the United States on a brief visit from his Tokyo headquarters.
The Reds have often said the figures they gave are correct. They have said, however, that not all Allied POWs have been screened to see if they desire to return home.
Meanwhile, nearly 12,000 Red fanatics in Kojie Island prison compounds off far Southern Korea rioted on the eve of their freedom.
One Red was shot to death and four others were wounded when U. N. guards had to fire to put down the first of three uprisings. They stopped the others with tear and vomiting gas.
The POW Command said the Reds apparently were trying to "save face" after the "disgrace" of being captured and were also trying to avoid reprisals from the Red bosses they will soon rejoin by proving they never quit fighting.

New Color TV Plan Proposed By FCC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission announced today it proposes a new compatible color television system which can be tuned in on existing receivers.
The new color plan is sponsored by the National Television System Committee, a technical group representing virtually all segments of the telecasting industry, which has been studying the color problem for more than three years.
The committee recently asked the F.C.C. to adopt its color standards as the uniform standards for all color casting. Many of the leading set manufacturers joined in asking for such approval.
The commission noted today, in announcing a proposed approval, that no opposition to the NTSC plan has developed from any source.
If the committee's color system should be finally sanctioned by FCC for commercial use, it would throw out the Columbia Broadcasting System's color broadcasting technique which FCC approved on an exclusive basis in 1950.
The CBS system cannot be received on existing sets without conversion. The new one would show up on present sets in black and white.

12 N. Koreans Held As Spies For U. S.

TOKYO (AP)—The Communist radio at Pyongyang said tonight 12 high North Korean officials have been prosecuted for planning to overthrow the Communist regime and spying for U.S. secret agents.
The North Korean radio said among the 12 officials were Rhee Syng Yop, former Peoples' Commission chairman, (the equivalent of special secret police) and Pak Hong Wong, former vice premier and foreign minister.
While monitors here heard one name as Rhee Syng Yop the broadcast identified him as a former justice minister and the name probably is Lee Syng Yop.
Last month South Korean intelligence sources said Kim Il Sung, North Korean premier, had fired Pak and Lee in a purge of Cabinet ministers who were pro-Russian rather than pro-Chinese.
The ROK sources said Pak had been jailed and his job given to Lee Tong Kun, a South Korean trained in Red China.
Kim reportedly held a big edge in a tug of war between North Korean Reds trained by the Chinese Communists at Yanan and those trained in Moscow.
Pak, a South Korean who turned up in North Korea after being accused of inciting Red riots in the American-occupied zone in 1946, was a former general secretary of the Korean Communist party.
From 1948 on, he was one of the most outspoken North Korean officials, often acting as a government spokesman.
